ANEW friends,

We are a month into the New Year. Classes, courses are going on as per schedule. With the demand for Para Medical and Home Care givers getting higher by the day, many corporate are branching off into this sector on a more professional & commercial basis. One such company, who approached us for nurses informed us that they do not get calls from patients in the city areas since ANEW; a "big player" in that section!!

The Government offering free vocational courses with direct entry to the Employment Exchange; it is getting more challenging to identify the right candidates – motivated & focussed. A lot of campaigning for deserving candidates is on.

We were also pleasantly surprised to have an NGO from Delhi choose ANEW as one of the 2 NGOs in Chennai as a "case study in their learning journey". For this a big cheers to our committee & staff.

Sincerely,
Ms. Vinodini Sudhindran
President

A New Course

The first batch of life skills "Psycho-Social Abilities", a new course was started at ANEW in November 2014. The response was absolutely overwhelming. The course is conducted by Mr. Freddy Paulose from Go Revival, an institute for training & consultancy. The 29 students have completed their two months course with Mr. Freddy Paulose.

Awareness Programs

On October 12th, ANEW thanks the "Inner Wheel Club of Madras Central" for conducting an awareness program on Rubella Vaccine. Mrs. Shreelatha Narayanan, The President of the "Inner Wheel Clun of Madras Central" and Dr. Shamsunissa gave a very detailed and informative account of this Rubella vaccine. This was of great benefit to the girls at ANEW.

On October 29th, trainers from Lakshmi Pain and Palliative Care Clinic, Chennai, conducted an awareness talk on Palliative care. Mrs. Vinodini Sudhindran, The President of ANEW, gave a brief introduction to the eager students at ANEW about the trainers from Lakshmi pain and Palliative Care Clinic. Dr. Subathra explained about creating awareness among people about Palliative care, lymphedema care. In another session, Sister Tamil Selvi explained about Ostemy care, wound management, etc.

The Nightingale Pledge

Home Nursing assistants take a Pledge (The Nightingale pledge) after the completion of their 6 months training at Anew. The Nightingale Pledge is taken by all new nurses upon first entering the nursing profession. At its heart, the Pledge is an adaptation of the oath which has been historically taken in an effort to promote the ethical practice of serving the sick.

A wonderful Story

This is a true story experienced by one of the girls at ANEW. Sridevi, a girl from Poonthair, a village near Thiruvannamalai. She had heard about ANEW through her friend's mother and therefore she approached ANEW for training. The counselling class was conducted by Mr. Subbiayan at the very beginning of the course itself changed her personality. She made a very huge effort to be active in college by participating in various events which was held by them. At the same time for six months, she attended the Web-designing Program at ANEW every weekend. With the amount of effort she put in college as well as at ANEW, made her work being appreciated and she was made the class representative in her college. She is one of the best students at ANEW and her latest Web-designing project outdid itself and was known for its creativity. She had an interview with L&T – InfoTech and because of her confidence, creativity and attitude she is placed and attending L&T's three month training. After this she can be placed almost anywhere in the country and as a fresher's fee, she is offered Rs.16, 000. Now, she wants to support her brother's educational expenses. Her dream is to be sent abroad by her company.

The anew team wishes Sridevi good luck and best wishes.

Happy Onam and Teacher's Day!!!!

On September 6th 2014, ANEW celebrated both Teacher's day and Onam. It was a very happy, joyous occasion for both staff and the students at ANEW.

Pongal Celebrations

Pongal, A traditional harvest festival of Tamil Nadu was celebrated at ANEW as a thanks giving with hopes and prayers for a fulfilling 2015.

Clean up Rule

On November 14th, the students and staff at ANEW decided to initiate a program "keep our premises clean". They dedicated at least 10 minutes every day to keep their premises clean. Each student did their bit in whatever way they could with the pride that a clean nation is in our hands!!!! It's a cleanup initiative. Let's all do what we can do to keep our nation clean.
